

Environmental Studies on the Piedmont

In partnership with the

Bull Run Mountains Conservancy

Invites you to an

Evening with the Woodcocks!

Come witness the Woodcock's wondrous aerobic "Sky Dance,"

American Woodcock, Scolopax minor

Located at the Environmental Studies Field Station
6712 Blantyre Road, Warrenton

Saturday, March 6, 2010

5:30-9:00 p.m.

Donation Requested - $10

Please pre-register:

540-349-3331; or es@iapm.org

Event Details

See the American Woodcock's delightful aerobic courtship display, while you quietly sit on a grassy hillside to listen and watch them soar in the gathering twilight. The display period lasts about a half an hour and ends as suddenly as it begins. Things you might want to bring: binoculars, camera, camp stool, flashlight or headlamp and hot drink if it is cold outside.

Please park at the residence. If there are no parking spaces left in the small lot, please park along the circular drive.

Special Note for Families: Because it is vital to observe quietly, requiring relatively long periods of silence and inactivity; we regret that this occasion is not suitable for very young children.

For more information see our website at: www.envstudies.org